According to the census returns there are but 244,704 Indians in the United States, all told. On grounds of economy solely, the Government might try the experiment of gathering the red men together and paying each person a liberal annual salary. It would be much cheaper than the cost of the administration of the Indian Bureau in time past.

The Controller's Report.

Controller Hallock in retiring does excellent service for the State by refuting the assertion that Nevada is losing ground. On the contrary it is gaining, as his tabulated statement of taxation shows.

In 1865 the taxable property in Nevada was eighteen million, in '70 it was nineteen million, in '72 it was twenty-two million and in 1890 it was twenty-four million. Thus in 1890 it was 31 per cent. more than in 1865.

In 1865 taxation was $1.25 on the $100 and now it is 55 cents, considerably less than in any of the Middle states, and much less than in California. In the State of New York it is $30 per capita and in Nevada it is $5 per capita. On the heels of this the State Land office shows that nearly two million acres of land have been taken up in ten years for agricultural purposes, and colonies in the East are arranging to secure our fine lands at one fifth the price of new land in California and Oregon.

No Kickers Need Apply.

In the Republican Assembly caucus at Sacramento, a resolution was adopted that no applicant who labored to defeat the Republican legislative candidates should receive patronage from this Assembly.

This would be a good rule to adopt here, as generally the men who kick the hardest in a campaign are the most persistent in their demands for recognition and often elbow more deserving men out of the way.

VARIOUS OPINIONS

Calculate to Give the Legislature Some Idea of What is Best To Do.

The Gazette files the following additional opinions to its query as to what law would be most beneficial for the incoming Legislature to pass:

RENO, Jan. 16, 1891.

EDITOR Gazette: A law which will wed water and land by some safe and wise system will lay the foundation for a thousand years of prosperity.

We must remember that while economy in expenses is always imperative in good government, the creation of property is the only way to grow great. If we could cut off all our expenses, and at the same time earn nothing, we shall still be poor. To make a State we must utilize, combine and develop our resources, under legal provisions and restrictions, which will prevent monopolies from obtaining control of our water supplies and oppressing the people, and which will at the same time establish proper safe-guards for the protection of capital from the possible attacks of demagogues and dishonest persons who might try to destroy the investments.

If the forces of the counties the State and private capital could be set to work to secure storage, reclamation and settlement, Nevada would go ahead in good style.

Very respectfully,
 R. L. FULTON.

RENO, Jan. 15, 1891.

EDITOR Gazette: Upon the unrestricted exercise of the elective franchise depends the perpetuation of this Republic. When, as was the case at our last election, votes were a purchasable commodity; when men, claiming recognition in social and business circles, in defiance of every principle of decency and law, used money for the purchase of votes, then I claim that the time has come for the enactment of some law that will make such a crime impossible. I consider, without suggesting any plan, that a change or modification of our election laws is the most important subject for the consideration of the incoming Legislature.

Very respectfully yours,
 A. DAWSON.

CARLIN, Nev., Jan. 14.

EDITOR Gazette: Stop the shoe shop at the States Prison. The leather is not worth as much after it is made up by the prisoners as it is before it is cut.

AARON BROWN.

Golden's Phonograph.

The first nickel in-the-slot phonograph to reach this city has been purchased by Mr. Golden, and is now on exhibition at his jewelry store.

It gives heavenly music for ten cents, and you have but to shut your eyes and imagine you are in Golden Gate Park listening to the band.

Golden's phonograph has many improvements over the APPEAL's instrument, which was the first ever heard in Nevada.

Since the APPEAL's instrument came here, many improvements have been made, and the most notable one is a thin piece of flexible steel which regulates and steadies the vibrations of the diaphragm.

Mr. Louis Glass, Pacific Coast Manager of the phonograph, is the inventor, and he has made the machine such a study that during the past year he has made more improvements on it than Edison himself.

About once a month he turns loose some "new racket," and Edison has found him so valuable a man that he don't bother any more about the machine, he lets Glass do it. Louis Glass however, we may as well state, was never heard of very much until after he married Miss Perkins of this City. He then began to blossom out as an inventor and is now regarded as one of the smartest men on the Coast. Californians who come to this City to select wives generally have about the same experience as Glass.

The information wired from San Diego to San Francisco on the 13th inst. that the schooner G. C. Williams had arrived at San Pedro with 22,000 sealskins, is utterly without foundation.

Z. C. Coleman, a mulatto, steward at the Merchants' Hotel at Helena, Mont., and Mary Leonard a pretty white girl, were married Wednesday. The marriage created considerable talk, but, strange to say the negroes profess to be more increased at it than are the whites. Coleman is a leader in colored society.
